After Mr. Lauterbach had finished Assistant District-Attorney McIntyre called Policeman James H. Hay, of the Eighteenth Precinct, as the first witness for the prosecution.

Hay said that on the morning of April 28 he noticed the trouble at the saloon. 48 East Thirteenth street.

He hurried to the scene and saw Cataldo ying on the sidewalk covered with blood and his throat cut.

The policeman next went to the joom where Maria and Cataldo had lived together.

There he saw Maria throw a blood.

A handsome young woman of twenty one was arraigned before Magistrate Flammer in Jefferson Market Court this morning, charged with annoying Harry Fowler, twenty-two years old, of 250 West Thirty-third street, a salesman at Twelfth street and Fourth avenue. She said her name was Mabel Stacom, of 209 West Fortieth street.

The young woman was arrested at 12 o'clock last night by Policeman McDonough, of the Tenderloin Precinct, at Twenty-sixth street and Broadway. The Twenty-sixth street and Broadway. The arrest was made at the instance of Fowler, who told the policeman that the young woman had been annoying him on the street for some time past. He claimed that he did not know her, but that she continually tried to fill with him. Because he rejected her advances, he said, she had lately been in suiting him whenever they met.

The girl indignantly denied the charges, but was locked up in the stadion-house. She cast angry glances at her accuser when arraigned in court. Fowler told the Magistrate that he did not want to press the charge provised the young woman would not annoy him further. This she promised to do, and was discharged.

Milwaukee M (R. Degretti. 18-1 f-1 19 19 Lord Hawkstone made the running to the far turn, with Humming Bird and Silk close up. As they turned into the stretch Silk moved up, and when on even terms with Lord Hawkstone he holted into the fence. Dogrett immediately pulled up. After this Lord Hawkstone went on and won easily by three lengths from Humming Bird, who was a length and a half in front of Renalisance Jockey Dogrett's ankle was slightly bruised. Silk sustained a long scrape on her side. Time—1.02%.
